

About 400 people show up at adjunct recruiting event

The Human Resources Department worked with the colleges to put on an adjunct recruiting event Nov. 19 at Grossmont College to add to the pool of qualified adjunct faculty. The event was held to fill approximately 300 teaching vacancies at the colleges, and about 400 people showed up. The attendees participated in orientation sessions, engaged with department chairs, deans, faculty and staff, and were briefly interviewed. About 15 students served as welcome and tour ambassadors.

All applicants were directed to complete the district's online application process, and received a list of chairs and coordinators for follow-up.

Workday to launch January 11

Workday, the state-of-the art cloud-based system that will replace the Human Resources, Payroll and Finance systems, is scheduled to go live Jan. 11. When the system goes live, employees will be able to go online and view:

- Benefit elections
- Job and total job compensation
- Pay stubs (beginning Jan. 30)
- Employment dates
- Organization charts for their team.

Employees will also be able to edit their personal info, including emergency contacts, payment elections for reimbursements, and dependent information.

A training schedule for employees is being put together and will be announced soon. Welcome to Workday!

Sheriff's Department holds active threat seminars

Sheriff's Sgt. Eric Munzenmaier held active threat seminars at Grossmont and Cuyamaca colleges on Nov. 30. Munzenmaier, the lead sheriff's sergeant for the District, reviewed the steps that should be taken in the event of a threat on campus. More than 50 people participated in the seminars so they will be more prepared if an emergency occurs.

District Services holiday events

District Services employees celebrated the holidays at the Dec. 6 District Services Holiday Coffee. Managers and supervisors hosted this event. It featured an ornament exchange and department gift baskets that were awarded to employees whose names were randomly selected. The basket themes ranged from a gingerbread house filled with money to all the supplies needed for a warm and cozy day at home. This annual event brings together the entire District Services family for food, fun and staff appreciation.

On Dec. 8, the annual District Holiday Potluck Luncheon was held. Everyone brought a range of food, and members of the chancellor's cabinet wore their holiday aprons to serve food to those attending. Erin Roberts sang "The Twelve Days of College," a GCCCD version of the old English holiday carol.

Both events were held in the warehouse. Thanks to Ron Adams and the Purchasing & Contracts Warehouse team for setup!

Welcome to New Employees

Eugene Davis

Eugene has joined Information Systems as technology manager for systems and security. He will be working on improving security throughout our computer network and educating computer users on protecting their cybersecurity. Before coming to the District, Eugene worked for 16 years at the city of Escondido. He previously served in the U.S. Navy.

Shane Stewart

Shane has joined Information Systems as a business analyst, helping to implement Workday Human Resources, Payroll and Finance systems. He previously worked at an escrow software company. Shane has a bachelor's degree from the University of Akron.

Erich Foeckler

Erich is the new director of development for the Foundation for Grossmont & Cuyamaca Colleges. He previously worked as fundraiser for the National MS Society, Home Start, a child abuse prevention agency, and St. Madeleine's Sophie's Center, an East County organization that serves adults with disabilities. He has a Certified Fund Raising Executive (CFRE) credential.